

2023 SPR and ECPN Awards Nominations

Deadline: Monday, March 27, 2023

ALL award nomination materials should be submitted via e-mail to Jennifer Lewis at jenniferlewis@preventionresearch.org.

SPR Awards Criteria

Awards are designed to recognize excellence in the areas consistent with SPR's mission. We encourage nominations of SPR members at all career levels and nominations that reflect the full diversity of SPR's membership. The specific awards are as follows:

1. The Presidential Award is given to an individual or a team of individuals who have made a major specific contribution to prevention science research. This award is intended to be a "lifetime achievement" award for a significant body of research or theory in any area related to prevention that has had a major impact on the field. The award can be for an entire research program extending over many years or for a single study that changed the field substantially. The awardee(s) may represent the fields of epidemiology, statistical methodologies, research design, or prevention strategies including interventions and policies.
2. The Prevention Science Award is given to an individual or team of individuals for a significant body of research that has applied scientific methods to test one or more preventive interventions or policies. This award recognizes individuals for the work of developing and testing prevention strategies.
3. The Public Service Award is given to an individual or team of individuals in recognition of extensive and effective advocacy (to include dissemination and diffusion) for prevention science and science/research-based programs.
4. The Translational Science Award is given to an individual or a team of individuals in recognition for contributions to the field of prevention science in the area of Type 1 or Type 2 translational research.
5. The Nan Tobler Award for Review of the Prevention Science Literature is given to an individual or a team of individuals for contributions to the summarization or articulation of the empirical evidence relevant to prevention science.
6. The Advances in Culture and Diversity in Prevention Science Award (formerly the Community, Culture and Prevention Science Award) is given to an individual or a team of individuals for contributions to the field of prevention science in the area of culture. Recipients of this award are recognized for work to enhance understanding of culture in prevention science and the development of and adaptation of effective prevention strategies for traditionally underserved and/or underrepresented populations, including racial and ethnic minorities.
7. The International Collaborative Prevention Research Award is given to an individual or a team of individuals for contributions to the field of prevention science in the area of international collaboration.

8. The Service to SPR Award is given to an individual or a team of individuals in recognition of outstanding service to the organization.

SPR Awards Nominations Process

Deadline: Monday, March 27, 2023

Eligibility:

- With the exception of the Public Service Award which may be given to a non-member, awards are intended for SPR members.
- Nominee and nominator must be a member of the Society for Prevention Research at the time of nomination.

We recommend you check the membership status of your potential nominee in advance. Contact Jennifer Lewis.

The SPR Award Nomination Packet should include:

- (1) One Letter of Nomination, briefly (under 1000 words) describe why you are nominating this individual (or group). What important contributions has this person (or group) made to the field of prevention science in relation to the specific award category. We encourage nominations of SPR members at all career levels and nominations that reflect the full diversity of SPR's membership.
- (2) CV (NIH biosketch or similar)
- (3) Link to the nominee's website.
- (4) One letter of support from others may also be included, but is not required (under 1000 words).

ALL award nomination materials should be submitted via e-mail to Jennifer Lewis at jenniferlewis@preventionresearch.org.

SPR/ECPN Awards

Nominations Process

Deadline: Monday, March 27, 2023

1. SPR/ECPN John B. Reid Early Career Award

The John B. Reid Early Career Award is presented annually by the Early Career Preventionist Network to a person early in their career in prevention. This award will be bestowed on someone who has shown a commitment to prevention science through outstanding contributions to research, policy, and/or practice.

Eligibility

- Nominee must be an early career scientist, defined as within 10 years post terminal degree.
- Nominee and nominator must be a member of the Society for Prevention Research at the time of nomination.

Nomination Package

- 1 nomination letter (maximum 3 pages): This letter is written by the nominator, and should address the nominee's contribution to the field of prevention science as evidenced by their activities in research, policy, service, and/or teaching. The strongest letters will include an indication of the potential long-term significance and impact of nominee's activities on the field of prevention science.
- 1 supporting letter (maximum 1 page): This letter is written by an individual who is not the primary nominator, and is intended to support the nominator's letter. The supporting letter may be less encompassing but should address similar themes as the nomination letter.
- Full CV for the nominee

Incomplete packages will not be considered. If more than 1 supporting letter is submitted, these will not be considered, so please only submit one supporting letter.

Nominations must be submitted annually (i.e., past unsuccessful nominations do not roll-over).

Complete nomination packages should be submitted via e-mail to Deineria Exner-Cortens, Chair, ECPN Awards Committee at deinera.exner2@ucalgary.ca.

2. SPR/ECPN Friend of ECPN Award

The Friend of ECPN Award is presented to a mid-career or senior preventionist who has supported and encouraged early career persons or issues. The recipient of the Friend of ECPN award will have been active in supporting early career activities, either by helping ECPN as an organization; promoting training, funding, and/or early career involvement in prevention efforts; or encouraging early career preventionists in their work.

Eligibility

- Nominee and nominator must be a member of the Society for Prevention Research at the time of nomination.

Nomination Package

- 1 nomination letter (maximum 3 pages): This letter is written by the nominator(s), and should address the nominee's support for early career prevention scientists. This can include supporting early career activities (e.g., by helping ECPN as an organization); promoting training, funding, or early career involvement in prevention efforts; and/or encouraging early career preventionists in their work. This letter can be signed by multiple nominators.

Incomplete packages will not be considered. Supporting letters are not required and will not be considered if submitted.

Unsuccessful nominations will roll-over for a period of 2 years after the initial nomination.

Complete nomination packages should be submitted via e-mail to Deiner Exner-Cortens, Chair, ECPN Awards Committee at deinera.exner2@ucalgary.ca.

Please contact Jennifer Lewis at the SPR national office if you have any questions.

3. SPR/ECPN Service Award

The ECPN Service Award is presented to someone who has shown a commitment to the development and advancement of ECPN. The intention of this award is to recognize contributions above and beyond traditional steering committee responsibilities.

Eligibility

- Nominee must be an early career scientist, defined as within 10 years post terminal degree.
- Nominee and nominator must be a member of the Society for Prevention Research at the time of nomination.

Nomination Package

- 1 nomination letter (maximum 3 pages): This letter is written by the nominator, and should address the nominee's contributions above and beyond traditional steering committee responsibilities.
- 1 supporting letter (maximum 1 page): This letter is written by an individual who is not the primary nominator, and is intended to support the nominator's letter.
- Full CV for the nominee

Incomplete packages will not be considered. If more than 1 supporting letter is submitted, these will not be considered, so please only submit one supporting letter.

Nominations must be submitted annually (i.e., past unsuccessful nominations do not roll-over).

Complete nomination packages should be submitted via e-mail to Deineria Exner-Cortens, Chair, ECPN Awards Committee at deinera.exner2@ucalgary.ca.

Please contact Jennifer Lewis at the SPR national office if you have any questions.
